Officials Complete Investigation of Palace Theater Robbery Here

Information expected to lead to the arrest of a burglar who took approximately $1500 from the safe of a Palace theater here Sunday night after gathering in an investigation conducted by Police Chief J. W.
McDonnell and County Prosecutor A. J.

Fitz Theaters Corporation and J.

After several persons had been questioned and an investigation of the scene of the robbery, officials were in possession of several clues today which were not revealed That the robber had possession of a combination of the loot without which he could not have been successful, was probable turned in the theater after the last 50 ADDED TO JURY PANEL IN SNOOK TRIAL

MEN FAVORED

Defense Shows Decided Ten-

from List

BY JAMES I. RILGALLAN
S. Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, July 27.—Dr. James H. Snook wants a man's jury.
In his fight to escape the electric chair the slayer of Miss Theodora Liz the "bashful" university co-ed is manifesting a marked tendency to gamble his life with a jury composed largely of men.

Snook's lawyers are slowly but surely ruling the women off the jury, apparently with the excellent approval of the judges.
Too many of the women seem to have made up their minds to go to the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

Monday the seemingly monumental task of getting the jury will be resumed. There was no reason of court today and Snook spent his time in jail instead of playing to a full house of young girls in the courtroom.

Eleven jurors three of them women—a nurse and two housewives—have been tentatively accepted. The defense, however, still has nine percentage challenges to exercise and they seem inclined to exercise them repeatedly when the jury box has been filled the prosecution has announced we are satisfied with the jury as constituted. But the defense is not.

A new panel of 50 talesmen has been ordered to report Monday. The Threats Received

by Snook Lawyers

COLUMBUS, July 27.—J. O.
Ricketts, one of the attorneys defending Dr. James H. Snook today informed the police that he had received a letter from a man who did not drop out of the case who only daughter, Helen Ricketts, 15 years old, was a high school graduate, was kidnapped.

Mr. Ricketts was greatly agitated over the threats. He said that Friday evening a woman telephoned him and told him to withdraw from the case. He is the only one who can save Snook. Later a man called and gave the same warning.

Another defense lawyer, Judge John L. Seidel, announced in court yesterday that he had received a threat. This morning Seidel said another message came threatening to kill him and his family. He said that he is an indication of the tremendous local interest that has been aroused by the case.

W. O. Swan, veteran employees of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing company's plant at Mt. Gilead. The three men have been steadily em-the industry grow until it is now the largest plant devoted exclusively to the manufacture of hydraulic machinery in the world. The fourth picture of the group is Howard B. McMillin, vice president and director of sales, who is responsible for a number of patents issued to the company in the last few years.

About 300 men and women

Improvements have been made

REUTERS PARIS, July 27.—Falling in his attempts to form a new cabinet, Poincare is under the impression that his office because of illness and the necessity of undergoing a serious operation he will resign his office and the resignation to President Gaston Doumergue today.

This action has been expected as the only logical solution in the complicated situation brought about by Mr. Poincare's resignation. President Doumergue will now call upon one of the retiring ministers to form a new government and it is confidently expected that Mr. Adolphe Blundin, minister of foreign affairs in the Poincare cabinet, will be entrusted with the task.

Mr. Blundin's decision to resign was made after Mr. Blundin and Mr.
Louis Barthou, minister of justice, had conferred with Mr. Poincare at his home and asked him to remain in office even though the state of his health prohibited active participation in administrative duties.

Russian Debt Only U. S. War Loan Now Unfunded

FRENCH AGREEMENT READY FOR CONGRESS

Ratification by Overseas Nation Virtually Closes U. S. War Debt Ledger

EXPECT "GRUMBLING"

Some Still Hopeful of Collecting $300,000,000 Due from Russia

WASHINGTON, July 27.—France's reluctant ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt agreement under which she is to repay the $4,000,000,000 borrowed from the United States treasury during the war, virtually closes the government's war debt ledger.

Of the billions poured out in foreign loans in the anxious years of 1917-18 there now remains only the Russian debt of approximately $300,000,000. Some officials here have long since given up hope that there are others who will believe that ultimately at least in part when an diplomatic relations are restored between Moscow and Washington.

lowest granted "up-slavia" pass only 10.50. France's debt better than the other major debtors with an interest rate of 10.50 which is over 100 per cent higher than the 1.75 granted little Belgium. Great Britain carries the heaviest load with an interest rate of 3.90.

France's debt to the United States is the largest of any country. It is the only one which has not been repaid. The French government officials do not believe that she will have any great difficulty in fulfilling her obligations under the Mellon-Berenger pact just ratified. Economists and financial authorities here consider France the most prosperous of any European country that engaged in the war. There is no unemployment at all in France.

Also the French schedule of payments has been so arranged that in no year will she have to pay the United States more than $125,000,000. During the same year Germany is due to receive from $3,700,000 reparations to $24,000,000 annually—or more than twice what she owes the United States.

During the next 10 years France will pay to the United States some $1,700,000,000 and collect from Germany in the same period $2,222,000,000—provided both the Mellon-Berenger agreement and the Young reparations agreement are carried out.

The American government, however, is paying 4 to 4 1/2 per cent interest to Liberty bond holders on this sum whereas the foreign debtors are paying from four tenths of one per cent to 3 1/2 in interest. This difference—and it amounts to billions—will come out of the pockets of the American taxpayer.

Generally speaking the war debt funding commission drove the host of bondholders in the foreign debtors, in the terms of each in dividend case. Thus they got away with an interest rate of 0.10 per cent.

From Hoover To China

Rogers Finds Much News After Congress Quits; Says China and Russia Have Nothing To Fight About

By WILL ROGERS

Only neither one of them haven't really got any more honor than a rabbit.

Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers. China has been on pretty good terms with the United States for a long time. I know things would pick up as soon as Congress quit. Mr. Hoover has been around Washington and its way in the middle of the summer. It looks like the Summer House will have to look for some other place than him. The Black Hills of the White ones are out of luck as far as the week's are concerned this summer. He knows they are out there in the name of Marshall and Virginia, some place and catches a few old cat fish every Saturday but a little bit that he has been right on the job all the time.

His Farm board met a couple of weeks ago and a funny thing happened. The day they met the price of wheat went up, but as soon as they saw the board wasn't going to do anything they went back down again. They just met and didn't get organized, and we really don't know what they will try to do. They have got to believe in the humbug, million dollar idea to build a help, stabilize prices or do something else. Now the boys are not working, exactly what you would call empty handed. There will be some moon put in circulation but it will be passing by this summer so fast and often that he will think it's on a Merry Go Round.

Ask Governors To Help
Then Mr. Hoover's Prohibition Commission is all organized and on the look out to see if this drinking has been exaggerated or is it a habit. The Head Men of that, Mr. Wickert, I believe it is, he issued a Statement to all the Governors who were assembled and asked the States to try and help. New York and a lot of the others got their annual laugh they want join in any enforcement.

Must Have War

The same old Bull is going on in the Opponents camp both sides trying to manufacture a national hate, that don't even exist. Now what Russia care or got to do with China. Both of them are the biggest Nations in the world. There is nothing either one has that the other wants but they must have war. Other Nations have become famous through wars so Russia feels like that is just about what they need to make the front page.

It is supposed to be something about a Railroad in China that China wants but they don't run it like Russia wants to the last advertisement and we are watching to see where she can dip in to the last advertisement and we are watching Japan and the first thing you know we will all be lining up and forming little alliances, and the same old combinations will be getting to gether again. Diplomacy will start operating and that's the match that starts all the wars. Now how could anybody come to be having an argument with China. She is the most powerful Nation on earth outside of the United States. China has her own way of making her own business and would like to live off to herself if there other Nations including us would let her but no everybody must horn into China. China never in her life had any private business. China's business is everybody's business.

Saw a picture in the Movies the other night of Ramsey MacDonald the new British premier. He was in a room and a fine personally. A bunch of those old Brits with all their pomp and tradition having to be ruled by labor. They grin and hear it fine for they are fine Sports men but you know it must be pretty galling to those old Litled ones. I would like to be over there now and get all the real dope from Lady Astor. She is the brightest Political mind I ever run into.

There's the War Debt

They been having a awful time over in France about paying us the debt. It is the debt. The French and the British seem to have horns won. They told the Chamber of Deputies. One time Germany was at our very doors and we asked the United States to help us and they did. Now should mistone ever again threaten us. Lets don't have them any. No once was enough for us. We helped you once and you didn't seem to appreciate it so never again. Well that concerned the Boys but even a war debt has some crumbs of equity. You see France wanted to wait to see how this Young Plan worked (and by the way I want to remind you again that this fellow Owen D. Young that drew it up is still a Democrat). I just didn't want to let it be forgotten. These Republicans grab off every thing and when us Democrats get hold of something good why we want the credit.

So let this strange Young is a Democrat but don't make the mistake of running him for President. We want to have him well known for a long time yet.

Well that's just about all the big news that's happened in the last few weeks. Anne has been away from us here in California. She went back to try and curdle Detroit but give up. Young Senator La Follette is here. I had a visit with him the other day. He has a lot of the old Gentleman in him and seems to be a mighty sincere Boy.

Ritzzy Rosalie

Dame Fashion has come to be a great make. It seems. Perhaps it will come to pass that one shall be ashamed to drive up in front of one's home unless the new car matches the exterior of the domicile. At any rate to go on with the story. Rosalie hates to lose a match race by a mere neck so she is wearing a multi-colored head necklace mottled to harmonize with her printed frocks. It is a long necklace and is worn twice around the throat. And speaking of harmonizing and match making the grained calf which was recently depicted in this column and which resembled fox fur in the various colors and design has been extended to shoes. It formerly was only used on handbags to further the ensemble idea but the advance fall notes have it in footwear.

WHAT A REVOLUTION IT PROVED TO BE!

1934

"No ordinary standards of speed, power, and ease of riding, operating and upkeep cost, can be applied to the Chrysler. This car compels so complete a revolution in all previous ideas of motor car performance and value, that you can comprehend its sensational results only through personal experience. True, it is built on fundamental engineering principles. But in the Chrysler these principles have been made to yield results heretofore unknown."

A BILLION-DOLLAR VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

The public has invested in Chrysler motor cars the staggering total of one billion, thirteen million, five hundred and forty-six thousand dollars—$1,013,546,000—in five years' time.

This amazing demand for Chrysler has been inseparably associated with public appreciation of the speed, power, beauty and long life of Chrysler cars.

Chrysler superiority has lifted Chrysler over the heads of long established cars to its present lofty place in the industry.

The public recognizes the significance of Chrysler's unique engineering and manufacturing principle of Standardized Quality. It realizes that Chrysler's achievements in performance, in smartness, in comfort, in safety, in stamina, in long life, in quality and in value are possible only by virtue of that principle. That is why Chrysler has been awarded such unprecedented public preference.

Today, as five years ago, you can comprehend Chrysler's sensational results only through personal experience. We invite you to submit any Chrysler—'65' or '75'—to a demonstration.

CHRYSLER '75'—$1535 to $1795—Eight Body Styles. CHRYSLER '65'—$1040 to $1145—Six Body Styles. All prices f.o.b. factory. Chrysler dealers extend convenient time payment.

Why
the New Dodge Six
is eclipsing its entire field

The backbone of Dodge Six—strength and long life is a structure of modern mechanical features that are bigger, stronger, more advanced and more efficient than those found in other cars that are sold at approximately the same price.

Nothing that you hear or read about the new Dodge Six could be more impressive than the facts and figures you will find in a Table of Comparative Specifications. For here is concrete evidence that in real value the new Dodge Brothers Six totally eclipses all others in its field.

Vaste? Not Always, Dealers in Old Scrap Iron, Other Materials Assert ever, we are reminded that the title of "junk dealer" is somewhat misleading, as it gives an erroneous impression of what is actually a well-organized business handling thousands of pounds of scrap iron annually. The scrap iron supply house, if you please.

Dozens of manufacturing concerns are regular customers of this local organization that has been active in Marion for more than 20 years. Not all of the iron furnished the manufacturer is from the local scrap iron, as much of it is shipped in here to be sorted. However, there is a good local supply constantly coming in, a part of the many thousands of dollars "wasted" here annually.

Time has changed the junk business. Otto Malo, who with his brothers Walter and Hugo operate the plant here, tells us Old junk dealers who can't take towns and cities with little horsecars to buy scrap iron a full paper are nearly a thing of the past. Most of the scrap sold here is delivered at the yards in trucks.

Junk dealers testify that the auto mobile industry has in two years helped to revolutionize the scrap iron industry. Not only is most of the scrap hauled and delivered via motor trucks, but wrecked automobiles and trucks constitute a large per cent of the dealer's business today.

"We began business here in 1889," Otto Malo says. "We then used horsecars for our business. Until 1919 horses provided most of the transportation power for our work. In that year we bought our first truck. We now have four."

The scrap iron, coming to the lot from various sources, is sorted and cut in to sizes that may be easily handled. It is then ready to be returned to mills to be melted and cast into useful merchandise. To this end 20 men are employed by the Malo Bros.

Many articles that find their way to the Malo Bros. lots here are usable in their present condition. Parts, especially for automobiles and other machinery, are in popular demand. Buildings destroyed by fire which were partially made up of steel construction and pipes, usual in yield many undamaged pieces to the scrap iron dealers. The hundreds of people that go to the junk yards daily in search of such material are ready customers and so does a considerable amount of the scrap iron and its waste on the market unchanged.

Marion industries and shops in adjoining cities are supplied with such iron by the local dealers, who in their words have grown up with the trade.

There are two other junk or scrap iron dealers in Marion. William Sanders located at 163 Davis street works similar to that of the Malo Bros. on a smaller scale.

The Marion Iron & Metal Co., at 309 West Center st., is also in this business.

Research at the University of California has shown that some disease germs can live in boiling water for hours although high temperatures kill most of them.

New Army Aviation School To Use Aerial Classroom

A school where students fly as they learn has been organized by the Air Service of the United States. Above a floor is shown taking a flight with a sextant from the forward cockpit of a plane, and below you see the cabin of a bi-motored Fokker plane recently converted into a flying schoolroom. With its aid, students will solve difficult problems.

Planes Employed Capable of Carrying Instructor and Several Pupils

A SCHOOL of aerial navigation which will give most of what used to be called "ground school" instruction in classrooms high above the clouds has recently been organized by the Air Service of the United States Army.

Planes capable of carrying an instructor and several students already have made a number of flights. The planes are held upon a deal reckoning, (the only means employed by Lindbergh in his trip across the Atlantic) and aerial radio. The students plot their locations at intervals and check results with the pilot instructor. In this way operators of airplanes learn to fly under difficulties. Situations which in "ground schools" could be only hypothetical are actually met and solved. The military pilot must learn to wrestle with unexpected problems, must learn to handle his plane safely and reach his destination against unusual odds. If he is to be prepared for the trying flight conditions of war.

The flying classrooms will be installed in a fleet of giant Fokker planes, with all seats, engine instruments, removed from the cabin to make room for navigation instruments and comfortable chairs for the students. The planes will be taken through fog and cloudy weather, enabling the neophyte fliers to "fly blind" from time to time—as must often be done in schedule flights.

Complete radio receiving and sending sets are installed. The radio beacon on flying fields use of light in the past. If in the cabin the beacon signal flashes. "It means that the pilot is off his course to the right," it says. "It is off his course to the left, and when 'I' appears he knows that he is on the right track."

And finally, Miss Ruth Carpenter, of Chicago, and Mrs. Joe Horn of Illinois.

VACATIONS BECKON MARION MINISTERS

Many Supply Pastors Appearing in Pulpits of Local Churches

Marion ministers are bemoaning the old adage, "There's a time for work and a time for play," for during July there have been supply pastors in many of the churches here. In August others will appear.

Early next week, the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Weckmuller, of First Reformed church, are leaving for a trip through Michigan and Wisconsin and will stop for a visit with relatives in Milwaukee. Mrs. Louise Hanover, mother of Mrs. Weckmuller, has been visiting here for the past month and will return to her home in Milwaukee with them.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. George, of Epworth M. E. church, are on a month's vacation in the northern part of Michigan. Last week, the Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Carriker and family, of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, left for a month in North Carolina and Kentucky.

The Rev. Karl W. Patow and two children, Ruth and Warren, of the Prospect Street M. E. church will leave Monday for a week at Lakeside where they will attend the Lakeside assembly.

The Rev. and Mrs. James M. Fisher and children of the Lee Street Presbyterian church, will leave early next week for an eastern trip.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard L. Olliver, of the First Presbyterian church have changed the order of going north for a vacation, and have gone on an eastern vacation. Vacation time is almost up for the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Howard, of First United Brethren church, who are enjoying a fishing trip in northwestern Michigan. They left several weeks ago on a month's trip.

The Rev. H. E. Williamson, of Oakland Evangelical church, started the vacation fever, by taking his vacation in June.

Will God Forget?

A SERMONETTE

BY THE REV. LAWRENCE A. WOOD, Pastor, Trinity Baptist Church

Many times the question is asked, "Will God forget?" The answer is both yes and no. It is a serious question, and the answer does not vary because of lack of seriousness. God needs the need of all who seek him mercy and help. The difference in answer is due to man and not to God. God never changes and his answer to man's question is always the same.

Will God forget? The penitent man who seeks forgiveness receives in reply the answer, yes. The loving heavenly Father forgets the sins of those who earnestly desire pardon. "As far as the east is from the west," is the assurance of the removal of guilt. The reason God forgets when transgression is forgiven is because it is covered by the atoning blood of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Will God forget? To the Christian believing in his Lord the answer comes, no, never. God never will forget those who have placed confidence in him. The statements of the Bible stand as the eternal promises of God to man. "Casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you." "Your Father knoweth what things you have need of before you ask him."

Will God forget? In the quiet hour when the soul faces eternity the question becomes increasingly serious. The answer to the question again is, no. God knows his own. He will never forget those who place their trust in him. The Christian passes into the life beyond quietly confident. He can say, "I know whom I have believed, therefore I know God will not forget."

Lessons from Our Sub-Sea Horrors.

Wednesday, for the first time in history, a submarine was "blown" from the floor of the ocean to the surface in the open sea. Submarines have been raised to the surface in the past, by the same method, but such raisings have heretofore been in protected waters.

The open sea test was made off San Diego, California, the submarine utilized for it being the V-1, the largest undersea vessel of the United States, while the rescuing vessel was the Ortolan.

The V-1 was sunk to a depth of eighty-six feet, where it rested upon the ocean bed, and from the time it touched bottom until brought to the surface, its crew remained passive.

Thirty-nine minutes later, the first diver from the Ortolan had reached the V-1 and connected an air hose to the submarine's salvage connections. The valve was opened, and first one of the two main compartments of the V-1 was filled with fresh air, the enclosed air having been driven out, and then the other. The connection was then changed and the Ortolan began pumping air through the salvage connection leading to the main ballast tank of the undersea fighting craft, forcing out the water ballast and replacing it with air, which meanwhile had been pumped throughout the entire vessel. Just twenty-three minutes later the stern of the V-1 appeared above the surface and a few seconds later the big submarine was floating on an even keel, having been raised by the Ortolan independent of the action of its crew.

Had the submarines which figured in our last two undersea tragedies been equipped as are our new submarines and those which have been changed since the later tragedy—that off Provincetown—the life loss in either case would have been trifling. That the life losses in the two sinkings were what they were is a matter for lasting regret, but had they not come as they did, perhaps the many rescue devices since installed in our submarines would have been long delayed, a delay which might have led to still greater tragedies. The price paid for the two lessons was an awful one, but the lessons were not lost on the navy. It has profited by them in bringing about many devices and attachments which will in the future safeguard those who go down in ships under the surface of the sea.

Light on Proposed Route Change.

Up to a day or two ago, those who have been opposing the plan to abandon the present course of federal route, No. 30, through Gulton, Marion, Kenton and Lima and run it almost directly west from Mansfield to Delphos, have been working in the dark to the extent that they did not know the chief force behind the movement for the change.
 It is now their belief that the mystery has been solved as the result of the making of an application by the Pennsylvania General Transit company for a bus route from Pittsburgh to Chicago. This company, it is very strongly hinted, has the backing of the Pennsylvania Railroad company. If it is not, in fact a subsidiary of that great railroad system, and is behind the proposed change of route.

Route, No. 30, is a federal route, whereas the existing route eighteen miles to the north which runs almost directly westward from Mansfield to Delphos, where it hits route, No. 30, is a state highway.

We do not take it that the interests making application for the bus route are interested in the scenic effects along the way.
 We have evidence of this in the fact that were the change made, route, No. 30, for much of the distance between Mansfield and Delphos, would parallel both a stream and an electric road and run directly alongside the latter. We feel sure that they are not interested in first-class hotel and restaurant accommodations as the motorists of today are.
 And we can not believe that they are interested in places and points of historic or other general interest. What they desire, we haven't a doubt, is the shortest and most direct route feasible between Pittsburgh and Chicago, and as the change would cut the distance approximately nine miles, they desire it.

Of course the applicant company could use the existing northern route between Mansfield and Delphos, but it so happens that that is a state route, and hence hasn't the guarantee of federal aid in maintaining it. But were the present Harding highway abandoned as route, No. 30, and No. 30 combined with the route eighteen miles to the north of us, governmental maintenance would be assured.

If the opponents of the proposed change are right in believing that the company seeking the new bus route is the chief force behind the movement, it will explain much which has occurred in the last few months for which no explanation, until a few days ago, was at hand.

Admittedly, the proposed change, if made, would work to the benefit of the applicant company, or any other transportation company seeking the shortest line between two points, but how about the benefit to the public? That is where doubt is bound to arise.
 It is seriously to be questioned if the powers that be can afford to change a route which offers many advantages to motorists and many scenes of interest, one of which is the most artistic memorial of its kind erected to a dead president—a memorial which is of such interest to the public that no less than a million and a half and probably two million people have traveled in Marion to visit it—to advance the interests of a transportation company.

 which drug addiction is built." Let the tea

Protect Foodstuffs.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It is too bad for any one of us to feel that disease is inevitable. Death is inevitable and by one cause or another each of us will be swept into eternity. But there are some diseases, and common diseases at that, that we have and really have no business to have.

For instance, there is "summer diarrhoea," "dysentery," "flux," "flux" makes no difference what you call it, this ailment is all too common. Why have it at all?

Thirty-nine times out of a hundred, summer diarrhoea is the direct result of eating improper or contaminated food. While all the life forces may be hurt in excessively hot weather, there could be no such disturbance of digestion without taking the wrong thing into the stomach.

No matter how well food is protected and how carefully it is handled, there is sure to be some contact with germs or bacteria. Fortunately most of these organisms are friendly ones. Indeed, they may be forms of life that are quite essential to our welfare.

On the other hand too many of them are anything but friendly. They are real enemies, capable of making us very sick.

But even if they are dangerous when taken into our bodies in large numbers, we are strong enough to resist them if their numbers are not too great.
 It is when the food is submitted to wrong conditions after it is purchased, that the danger becomes a real menace to health.

Unless the perishable foods are kept all the time at a temperature of fifty degrees or less any germs that may be present will multiply. In twenty-four hours a few germs will become a billion.

Any perishable food, you see, may be changed from something valuable to health to something positively dangerous. It is not the food, of course, but the germ life and poisons developed within it that make it capable of causing serious illness.

Among the other possible effects of heat upon the food is the development of germs that cause diarrhoea. Summer dysentery is what happens to one who has eaten food contaminated in this manner.

Milk and meat, vegetables and fruits, everything that is uncooked and unprotected by strong natural coverings, may speedily spoil. Even though the germs of rot and smell may not reveal it, there may be such spoilage, such germ growth, as to make the food unfit for human use.

If you refuse to eat in doubtful places and take pains properly to refrigerate the foods in your own home you are reasonably safe. The certainty of good health is promoted by buying nothing except sound, fresh raw foods.

Editorial Opinion.

NUDITY ON STAGE AND BEACH.

Florenz Ziegfeld, father of the famous "Follies," and originator of the revue form of entertainment which had for its purpose glorifying the American girl, has gone on record as being unalterably opposed to nudity on the stage in general and to bathing beauty contests in particular.

"The revues of late are nothing more than dramatized dirty stories, which, in pre-prohibition days," he states, "found their origin in bar-rooms. In theatrical parlance we call them 'blockouts.' Unless the 'Follies' can be distinguished from the current conception of the revue, I shall abandon them as I have the revue."

This is a courageous stand by a veteran producer whose ingenuity fashioned the very form of amusement which now he deprecates. It is the abuse of the idea, not the idea itself, which is responsible for the determination of Florenz Ziegfeld to align himself with those forces in the theater that have the interest of decent entertainment in mind.

Ziegfeld has enriched the theater of America in recent years with such wholesome, fascinating musical productions as "Show Boat," "Ho Ho Ho," "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Knowing" and "The Three Musketeers." Each had merit and all were entertainments of the advanced type, clean and wholesome.

The musical revue that caters to depraved tastes has no claim to existence. It is a blot upon the theatrical echelon, and the sooner it is eradicated the better the stage will be for it.

Proper display of feminine pulchritude offends nobody. That the bathing beauty contest, per se, is a thing of beauty, is a matter for serious debate. It is an exhibition that will attract no self-respecting young woman. It serves no good purpose unless it be that a conspicuous display of the feminine form in a state of semi-nudity is to be regarded as a commendable enterprise.

The feature of semi-nudity attaches to the bathing beauty contest. To proclaim a winter swimsuit nothing more than that the most personable and most shapely contestant has been chosen. When all this balderdash ancient bathing beauty contests cease to lay claim to public attention? Generally speaking such exhibitions are an insult to American womanhood.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

MOST FOLKS ARE HONEST.

A year ago the rich National City bank, of New York, which finances big business, gave Wall street a sensation by opening up a department for loans, without collateral security, to working folks who needed a hundred dollars or a thousand dollars, and needed it badly.

After a year, however, during which the National City bank has loaned over $16,000,000 in such loans, a report is made which shows that the loss has been negligible. The vast amount of borrowers met their obligations promptly. The experience of the bank helps support the general conviction that most folks are honest. Most men and women take pride in making their word as good as their bond.

This great bank has helped more than 50,000 New York families by its small-loan policy. It helped a man finance a surgical operation for his son. It provided a waitress with enough money to bring her brother to this country from Germany.
 It freed many wage earners from the coils of the loan sharks. A third of the loans were for medical and dental service; fifteen per cent. to pay debts and other loans; fourteen per cent. went for home equipment, and eight per cent. more for payments on homes; education took five per cent. The repayment plan, calling for regular savings accounts deposited from wages, was promptly followed by ninety-seven per cent. of the borrowers, and legal action had to be instituted for the recovery of less than one per cent. of the total loans. — Omaha World-Herald.

The Law of Gravitation.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

If we could all go back to the fundamental laws of mathematics, physics and astronomy and analyze them in much the same way as did Euclid, Galileo, Kepler and Newton, we might grasp them in their utter simplicity.
 "Laws of nature," so-called, are really the formulation, usually in the guise of mathematical equations, of the uniform operation of natural phenomena. They are often difficult to understand, because the average human intelligence draws back from mathematical equations in which are arrayed a mass of symbols.

It is conceivable that all science might be written without the use of mathematical formulae. In the beginning of algebra, we say: "Let x equal the number of dollars I have to start with," and we then continue to use x, this unknown quantity, until the conclusion is reached and the unknown becomes the known. However, by a gigantic process of roundabout explanation we could, of course, say all that the equations say in plain words of unequivocal meaning. But the loss in aptness is not compensated for by a corresponding gain in clarity. By avoiding symbols, we soon become entangled in a perfect jungle of words. The last stage is worse than the first.

For the time being, let us consider just what is meant, what is implied and what is assumed in the law of gravitation. Thus far, science is baffled in the attempt to explain the law. All science can do is to explain its operation; and to analyze the nature of the factors involved in its formulation. Is the law of gravitation a fact which can be verified, or is it a workable hypothesis which established relations between data of testimony?

Dr. Henry Lanz has recently put this matter in a very clear light. According to Newton, two particles attract each other directly as the product of the masses and inversely as the square of the distance apart. Consider now an oval curve, say ellipse, with a point fairly near one end of the long axis, called the focus. A line drawn from the focus to the curve is called a radius vector. As the planet revolves in the elliptical orbit around the attracting body at the focus, the radius vector sweeps out a sort of sector or slice of the curve. Now one of the "laws" upon which the law of gravitation depends is: the radius vector traverses equal areas in equal times. This always happens with a force which is called central acceleration—somewhat after the fashion of a falling body. It is a mathematical, but not a physical, consequence, and does not imply that the planets do actually move under the action of central acceleration.

Newton proves that the converse of this law is also true, namely, if there is a body that follows the law of areas, it moves under the effect of a central force. The mathematical analysis does not and can not demonstrate the physical existence of any such body. Once Kepler had observed that Mars obeys the law of equal areas for sectors joining it to the sun, it follows inevitably that Mars has a central acceleration toward the sun.

In a similar fashion, it is easy to show that all falling bodies follow falling bodies follow from the assumption of a constant central acceleration. On this assumption, bodies can not fall according to any other law, viz: as proportional to the square of the time.

Now Newton's problem was this:
 According to what law does the attractive force vary with the distance? Very slight consideration suffices to show that the concept of central force alone will not uniquely supply the law of gravitation. The path of the moving body acting under the influence of central acceleration determines the relation of the distance. Since the planet describes a known elliptical path about a body located at the focus of the ellipse, this observational fact coupled with the law of central force supplies the fact that the force of gravity is inversely proportional to the square of the distance.

Thus we see that Newton makes but one hypothesis: that celestial bodies move under the action of central forces. It is a mistake, as Lanz has pointed out, to say that Newton's law of gravitation is a hypothesis that "admirably fits the facts." As a matter of fact, it is a scientific formulation of those facts in mathematical form. The statement that intensity of gravitational force is inversely proportional to the square of the distance amounts really to this: celestial bodies in the immediate neighborhood of each other move with respect to each other in conic sections. Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

In Los Angeles.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

Los Angeles, July 27.—The perpetual cheering here has the lustiness of a Yale Harvard football game. Any one who slaps down his desk at any time to test his legs for anything adding a new laurel to the municipal glory. They never tire of professional heckling.

To me, the breakfast club is a shining example of the way the city lets go in professional enthusiasm. All celebrities are invited to the expensive clubhouse, a good drive from town.
 And as a rule the most prominent citizens will stir themselves out of bed to attend.

What Am I Bid? Church Sponsors Unique Sale

ONE of the most unique and entertaining affairs in the history of Wesley M. E. church, will be the benefit sale and ice cream social, Wednesday at the Leslie E. Adams home, one and a half miles east on the Harding highway.

Dogs, cats, pigs and chickens will be put under the auctioneer's hammer, a complete line of clothing for men, women, boys and girls will be sold to the highest bidder, and there have been indications that many articles of furniture will be offered in the sale.

The sale will open at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and continue through the evening until 7 P. M. Bids, sales manager, is satisfied that there is nothing left to sell.

Everything that will be put up for sale has been given the church by the business houses of the city or by individual donations. No one church society in particular is in charge of the benefit sale. The entire church congregation has had a part in collecting the articles for sale.

Ice cream and cake will be served on the lawn to refresh the buyers for the hot weather, clothing and furniture.

Proceeds from the sale will go towards the expenses of the church.

James Reed, work of completing a setting for the party has been under way during the week.

Miss Doris Lander, Lenora M. Francis and Charles Grace will be in a fanfare directed by Mrs. Wang. Mr. Reed's cast will include Mrs. Rodney H. Hume, Miss Lenore Bondley, George L. Krantz, James H. Shipley and a small part taken by the director.

Just Things

How Much?

THESE are those who remember the old adage about little girls being made of sugar and spice and everything nice, which might go for a lot of hoosies, but here is an authority who claims to give the correct low down on what the men are made of. Men, he claims, contain fat enough for seven bars of soap; sulphur enough to rid a dog of fleas; fat enough for seven bars of soap; magnesium enough for a shaker; lime enough to whitewash a chicken coop; phosphorus enough to make 2000 matches up; potassium enough to explode a toy cannon and the noble ingredients can be purchased for the sum of 50 cents. And that is but a guess.

BUILDING BRICK PROVIDES BEAUTY, ECONOMY

The IRON FIREMAN Automatic COAL Burner

Uses principle of "Forced Underfiring"

THE IRON FIREMAN

T. M. CUNNINGHAM

Plumbing and Heating Contractor.
159 McWilliams Ct. Phone 2818.

With Forced Underfiring coal is quietly and continuously fed to the fire from below, under regulated forced air draft, in such a way that an unagitated fire with actually complete combustion is achieved. The ash residue is greatly reduced over hand firing. Nothing passes off as smoke. All goes into heat.

An all color red brick was used in this Georgian house at Canton, Ohio. With its simplicity of design the clear cut red brick laid in white mortar makes a very effective wall. It is genuinely hand molded brick, made by

Hotel in Marion Praised By Writer for Magazine

"Small Towns May Have the Best Hotels." This is the title of an article appearing in the current issue of Forbes magazine. It was written by Charles W. Wood, associate editor of the publication.

The article deals with the writer's impressions of the Hotel Harding, gained during his six weeks' visit in Marion to obtain material for a book which he proposes to write.

Wood's impression of the local hotel may be gained from a sentence taken from his article. The sentence follows: "There may be other small towns, outside of tourist resorts, which have as good hotels as the Harding, but the writer, who has covered the country extensively, has never found them."

In another place in the article, Wood says, "Marion is a city of comfort, convenience and health, the modern school's exterior must reflect simplicity and dignity.

The new West High school, at Columbus, Ohio, (shown at the top of the group of pictures) is an inspiration to better building. It is the work of Howard Dalglish Smith and is built of Wyandot hand molded brick in a wide range of colors.

Note the quiet lines and modest treatment of the Camjoharie, N. Y., school. It is shown in the lower picture. This was designed by Klins and Frank, of Utica, N. Y., and is built of Wyandot Old Colonies, in varying shades of red, brown and clender-blue.

The two schools shown in the center of the group are the boys' division of the Vrooman Memorial, at Utica, N. Y.—a Masonic organization—and are built of Wyandot full range Colonials.

The following article, taken from Building Economy, is a sincere tribute to common brick:

"The sun shines on many lands," once declared John Tom Hazeltine, famed as the tall sycomore of the Licking, "but nuclear on the Lord's foot-stool does it do so with such a kindly regenerating warmth, with such a constant and refulgent brilliance and with such a loving and tender caress, as in the mountains of Kentucky." That little burst of ardent oratory might be paraphrased to apply to the common brick, which always mellows and radiates with a new life under the sun's indulgent ray.

Wyandot bricks are products of the Wyandot Clay Products Co. of Upper Sandusky.

30,000 and the hotel is the sort one expects to find at top prices in a city of 300,000." Before Wood closed the article he wrote that he didn't come to Marion to write an advertising story for a hotel but that he was so favorably impressed with the Harding that he thought it deserved public mention.

He pays tribute to the business integrity of Marion men who made the hotel succeed in spite of the sudden drop from prominence. He attributes the success of the hotel to the fact that it has been made a place to which first visitors are anxious to return. "It has been made a success," he states, "by Marion men without the aid of outside professional promoters."

In his article Wood says that "Marion is conservative plus." In another place he writes, "It is cautious and then some."

Wood came to Marion for information for a book, dealing with the changes brought about by the increasing industrialization of the country.

The Colombian government has appointed a national council of communication that includes an American highway expert, a British hydraulic expert and a French railway expert.

WHEN A LITTLE BABY DIES
When a little baby dies
And the wee form silent lies,
And the little cheeks seem waxen And the little hands are still,
Then your soul gives way to treason,
And you cry "O God, what reason, O what justice and what mercy Have You shown us by Your will?"
"Oh, there are so many here •
Of the yellow leaf and sore, Who are anxious, aye, and ready To respond unto Your call; Yet You pass them by unheeding, And You set our hearts to bleeding!
Oh, how bitterly upon us Do Your vanquished mercies fall!" Yet some day, in after years, When Death's angel once more nears, And the unknown, silent river Looms as darkly as a pall, You will hear your baby saying,
"Mother, Daddy, come to me, I'm slaying
With my arms outstretched to greet you."
And you'll understand it all.
